MY STORY

BUILT FROM HARLEM.
FORGED IN SERVICE.

I grew up in Harlem, raised by my grandmother Christine Greene — a woman who taught me that discipline, faith, and relentless hard work are the only currencies that never lose value.

At 27, I answered my country's call. I served as a Supply Sergeant and Unit Chief Logistician in the U.S. Army, including a deployment to Iraq in 2003. I came home with a different kind of clarity — the kind that only comes from real stakes.

"The layoff was a chapter. Not the conclusion. I'm not stopped — I'm activated."

From DoD logistics to Amazon to warehouse leadership — every role has been about building better systems and better people. I lead by the 4 F's:
